

The primary objective of the Fondazione Distretto Green & High Tech Monza Brianza is to further develop the unique set of innovative companies, entrepreneurial spirit, advanced technical know and competencies in the fields of ICT (microelectronics, electronics, TLC) and Renewable Energies that is historically present in the north-Milan territory.

To this end, the identified path is to aggregate a cluster of companies operating in the aforementioned industries, to support and propel their development and to contribute to establish a healthy environment for such enterprises to grow.

As of today, 100+ member companies (including major corporations and small and medium enterprises) participate to the thick networking organized and managed by the Distretto, with the result of easier business contacts between the member companies and of several joint R&D projects, thus allowing the diffusion of best practices between member companies and helping to maintain a balanced level of employment in the territory.

The Cluster offers also a complete set of services focused on the industrial development of its member companies, building the bridge between the Local Government Institutions and the companies, helping start-ups to get off the ground, designing education paths for the employees together with the companies and promoting the aggregation of companies to join soft-financed projects dedicated to advanced R&D and innovation.
